Footfalls down an empty passage
Echoing quietly like a silent mind.
Footfalls that begin to express individuality
As each seeks his own separate way.

Footfalls that are the opening of many doors
Bringing peace, happiness and tranquility or rushing to and fro
Each lost in his own thoughts.

Footfalls that gently echo—
Bringing memories of times past and pictures of empty corridors as the footfalls gently pass.

President

To the Senior Class of 1977:

More quickly than expected our final days as high school students have ended. This was a year which we all shall remember and treasure.

The world which we are in is one of strenuous competition. We, the members of the class of 1977, have inherited the determination, pride, and nationalism which our predecessors held most dearly.

Our bicentennial year has ended and America has begun another step in time. We, as the graduating class of 1977, are also beginning another step in our lives.

As we depart from friends, whom we have loved and cherished, let us utilize all of our knowledge and talent and make every endeavor to protect the dreams and expectations of our forefathers.

The Spirit Of '76

On May 21, the Senior Class of 1976 was the honored quest at the 1976 Junior-Senior Prom. The Officers Brick Mess patriotically displayed the Spirit of '76 with white tables draped with red and blue sashes and decorated with tiny hand-made Liberty Bells. The ballroom was highlighted with a sparkling iced image of the Liberty Bell. Music was provided by Kirby & Company. A special added touch to the evening was the surprise presentation of red roses to the senior girls and white carnations to the underclass girls. The Bicentennial Spirit came to life in the midst of bright eyes and shining smiles.

Not everyone had the Bicentennial Spirit that evening! (Judy Laws, Dan Kennedy, Reneé McCullough, Jonas Brinson)

"What are you doing later on tonight?" (Susan McGregor, Joe Schmalzel, Debbie Kirkland, John McEnery)

Senior Honor Night

Class of '76

Steve Armstrong proudly accepts the Valedictorian award.

Jim Thayer receives an ROTC award for outstanding achievement.

Senior Honor Night was held on May 17, 1976. This special night was held in the auditorium of Fort Knox High School with the Juniors carrying out the old tradition of holding the candles to "light the way" for the Seniors. Every year the school awards the outstanding students in different fields for their above average and superior abilities. This marks the end of a happy and prosperous year and is one more step toward graduation.

Karol Olive and Steve Armstrong smile proudly after receiving the Salutatorian and Valedictorian awards.

"Awh . . . shucks!" says bashful Doris Waldrop.

"Ohhh . . . I can't believe it!" cries Karen Ray.

"I, Mr. Brown, award you, Melanie Starry, this award . . . I think!"

Girls' State

In June, 1976, Fort Knox High School sent five delegates to Kentucky Girls' State which was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary at Morehead University. The girls learned about local, county and state governments and how they operate. Speakers from the state government lectured. Along with work, was time for recreation and fun. Rhonda Wulff was Speaker of the House; Teresa Lefebvre was Minority Whip in Senate; Kathy Schoonmaker was Sergeant-at-arms of the House; Debbie Kirkland and Laura McKinley were Representatives in the House.

Boys' State

During the first week of June, four delegates from Fort Knox High School attended Boys' State which was held at Eastern Kentucky University and was sponsored by the American Legion. During their stay they attended three sessions a day at which important government officials spoke about state and local government. Recreational time and social affairs were included. Secretary of Agriculture was Chris Tanner; Joe Schmazel and Aaron Bell were elected to the Senate; Ray Trouvé was appointed to the House of Representatives.

Speech Institute

From June 26 to July 17, 1976, four students of Fort Knox High School attended the Kentucky High School Speech and Debate Institute which was held on the campus of the University of Kentucky. They had classes in debate, extemporaneous speaking, theory and logic which lasted from 1:00 AM to 10:30 PM. They worked on skills in debate and extemporaneous speaking and received grades on their work.

Yearbook Seminar

Ellen Lagutchik and Brigitte Boudinot represented Fort Knox High School at the Yearbook Seminar which was held at Georgetown College, Georgetown, Kentucky in June of 1976. During their one week stay they put together their own mini-yearbook consisting of sixteen pages. They attended classes from 8 AM to 6 PM. Recreational activities were also a part of the seminar.

International Seminar

Last July five seniors represented Fort Knox High School at the International Relations Seminar at the University of Louisville. The Seminar was sponsored by Dr. George Brodschi. These students attended classes in which diplomats from all over the world lectured. They went on field trips with foreign students, and they learned about different cultures. This seminar lasted three weeks, from July 18 to August 6.

Miss Cutie

Shake Your Bootie

In April of 1976, Fort Knox High School was graced with the social happening of the year, the Miss Cutie Contest. Thirty males dressed in female attire promenaded the gym floor with their female escorts dressed as males. The sophomore members of the Student Council judged the males on the following criteria: legs, dress, walk and whistles drawn from the crowd. The climax of the event was the crowning of Amos Martin, escorted by Sheila Chamberlain, as the reigning 1976 Miss Cutie.

1976 Golden

Robyn Wulff, "You mean we have to march all that way?"

On September 8, 1976, the annual Golden Armor Parade was held. Each year this parade is sponsored by the Radcliff Chamber of Commerce to honor the Fort Knox Community. The theme of the 1976 parade was "200 Years in the Past-200 Years in the Future". Our Fort Knox High School band won second place in the competition. A 1976 Fort Knox High School graduate, Tracy Brown, was selected to reign as Miss Gold City.

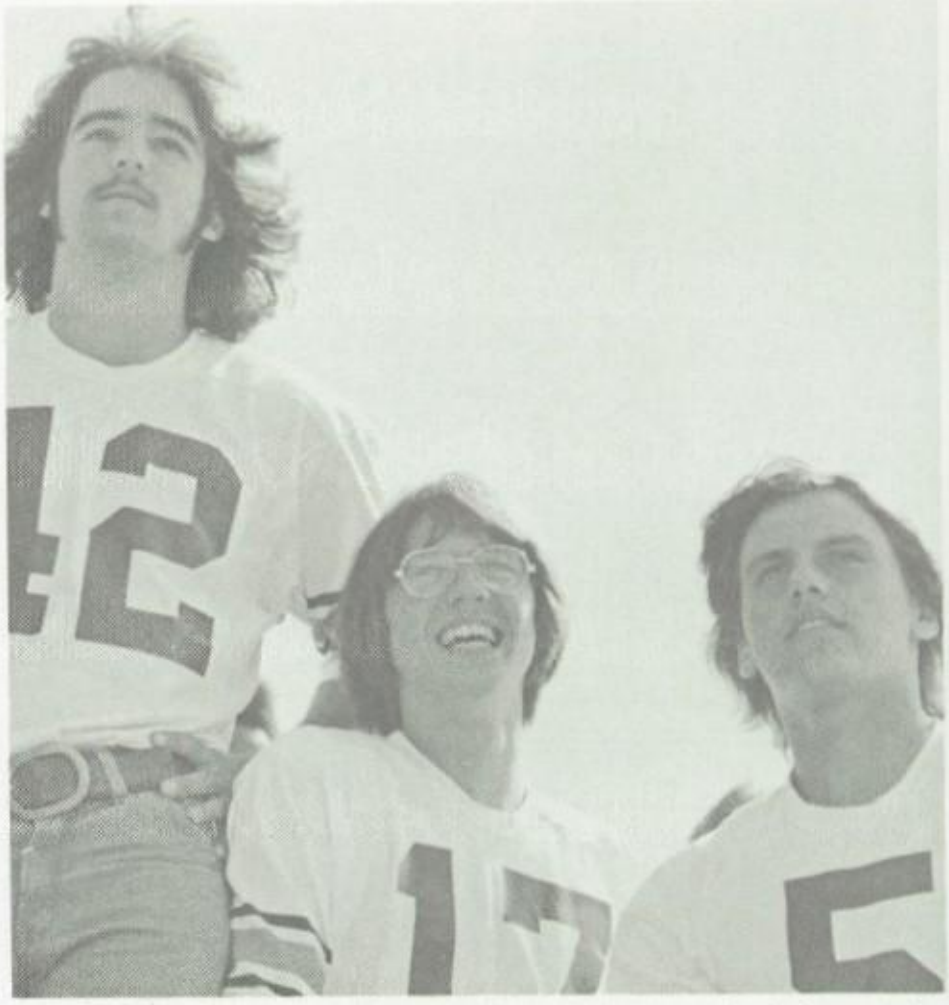
We Lost, but We Had Fun Trying

Homecoming week started out with the traditional spirit signs, balloons and mums. By Friday the enthusiasm had reached its peak! On October 1, each class paraded behind its own male yell-leaders and decorated car to the football field for the pep rally. The yell-leaders competed for spirit and the yell-leader plaque. The Class of 1977 won first place. The Junior Class' Tombstone float won first prize in the car decorating contest. The seniors took second prize with their Rebel-eating Eagle. The Class of 1980 showed the most spirit and was awarded the Spirit Stick.

The game Friday night was equally spirited, but we lost. At half-time Peggy Curtin was crowned Homecoming Queen. Peggy reigned over the dance the following evening at the Service Club No. 1.

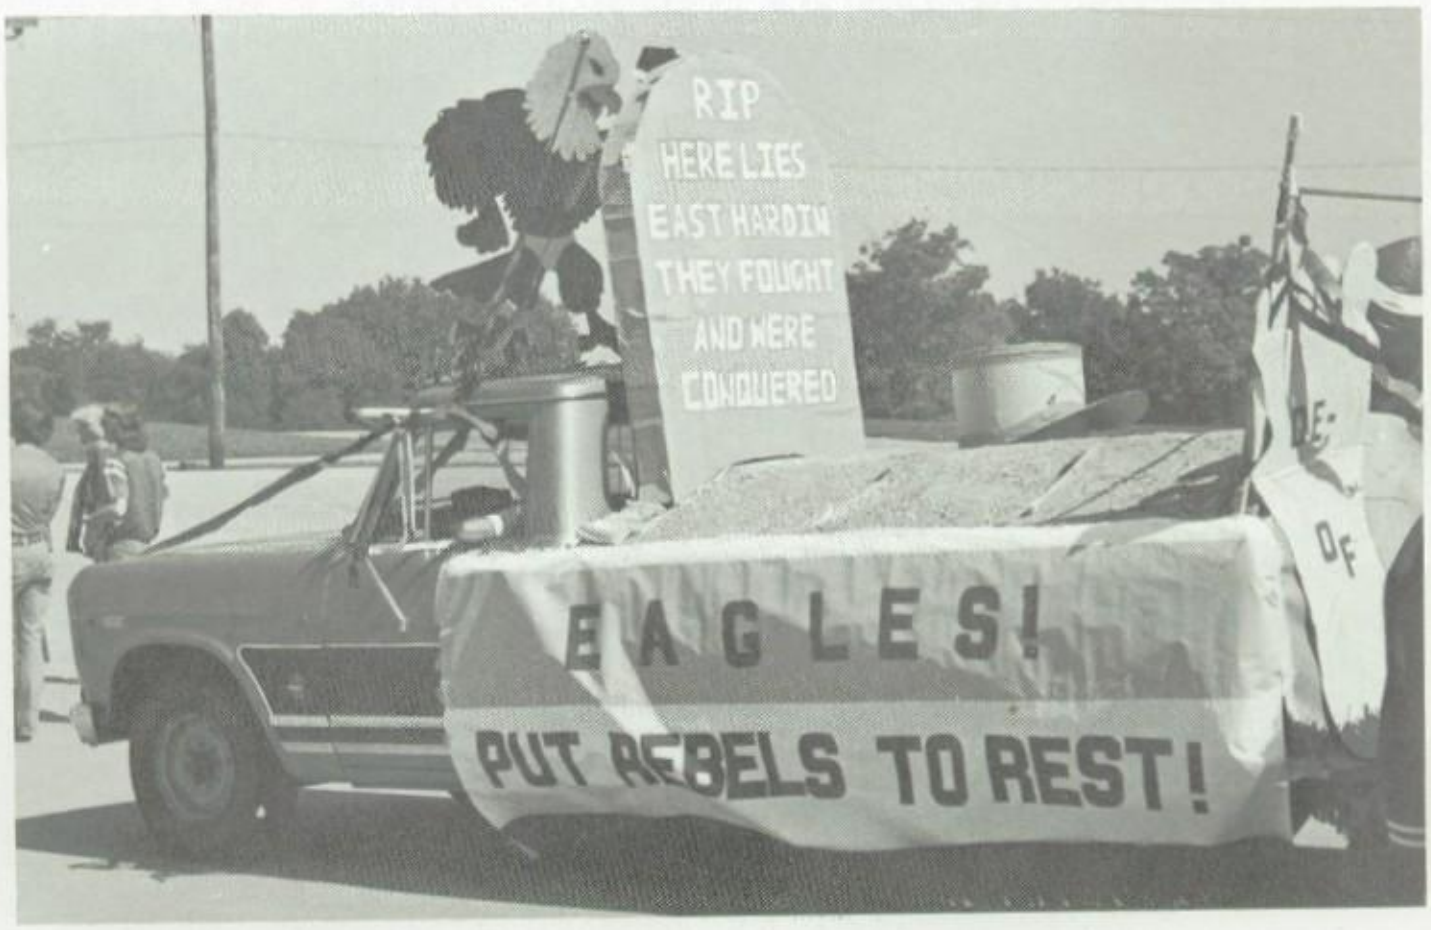
It was an exciting and memorable occasion for the students at FKHS!



Gregg Cherry, Tom Paliga and Gary Bowman look forward to the game with great anticipation.

The team relaxes now but will play hard later!

The juniors "Put the Rebels to Rest" and won first prize.



"Oh, Junior, you have lovely legs!" (Allen Meier, Steve Titus, Junior Ortiz)

HOMECOMING COURT 1976

Peggy Curtin, Bridget Smith, Patti Curtin, Renee´ Mc Cullough and Cindy Whitcraft were all selected by the student body to be the Homecoming Court of 1976. Pictures in the main hallway and jeep escorts to the football field for the Homecoming Pep Rally were part of the honors they received as members of the Homecoming Court.

The night of the Homecoming game they were escorted through an arch of the school's colors. Each girl's name, class year and social activities were announced. The atmosphere was tense with anticipation; the Queen's name was announced; cheers and applause erupted for Peggy Curtin, Homecoming Queen of 1976!

Hardin County Junior Miss Pageant

Twelve girls from Fort Knox High School participated in the Hardin County Junior Miss Pageant held on November 6 and 7 at Radcliff Elementary School. They were Bonnie Motley, Edda Campbell, Cindy Hayes, Susan Dozier, Teresa Lefebvre, Peggy Curtain, Carolyn Beadle, Laura McKinley, Susan Hopkins, Debbie Marshall, Rhonda Wulff and Karen Long.

Cindy Hayes was named First Runner-up and received a $500 scholarship and a silver bowl. Teresa Lefebvre was named Second Runner-up and received a $250 scholarship and also a silver bowl. Laura McKinley and Karen Long were named semi-finalists.

There were five individual awards presented. FKHS girls took three—Teresa Lefebvre, Scholastic Award; Cindy Hayes, Talent Award; and Rhonda Wulff, Spirit of Junior Miss Award. Each girl in the pageant received a silver necklace as a remembrance of the event.

The girls were judged on talent presentation, a physical fitness routine, poise and appearance, scholastic achievement and an interview with the judges.

Cindy Hayes and Joe Schmalzel seem to be celebrating their second place winning.

Three cheers for the newlyweds! (Bill Schneider, Valerie Friedental)

Hoe-Down '76

On November 13 the Junior Class sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. Games, prizes, food and contests were provided for the hoe-downers in a true hillbilly spirit. Mr. and Miss Dogpatch were chosen from the best costumes. This year Lisa Daley and John McEnery took first prize; Cindy Hayes and Joe Schmalzel won second.

"Let me see, is this my third wife or my fourth?" (Scarlet Frazier, Brian Duffy)

"Hurry up! I can't hold this smile forever!" (Betty Cobb, Ron Puckett)

Who's Who Among American High School Students 1975-1976

WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS is published to provide recognition for achievements of junior and senior class high school students.

The three students who were chosen from Fort Knox High School showed leadership, scholastics, and have participated in school activities, public services and Girls' State. The seven states that were involved in this publication were Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Ohio and Tennessee.

Speech Finalist

Miss Rhonda Lynn Wulff was chosen as one of the ten finalists from the state of Kentucky for the outstanding Speech Student of the Year Award. The award is based on a student's high school transcript, test scores, recommendations, speech activities and school activities. The finalists met at the Carnahan House in Lexington, Kentucky on December 10 and 11. The final portion of the contest was a thirty minute interview with the judges, who were faculty members of the University of Kentucky.

Miss Rhonda Lynn Wulff

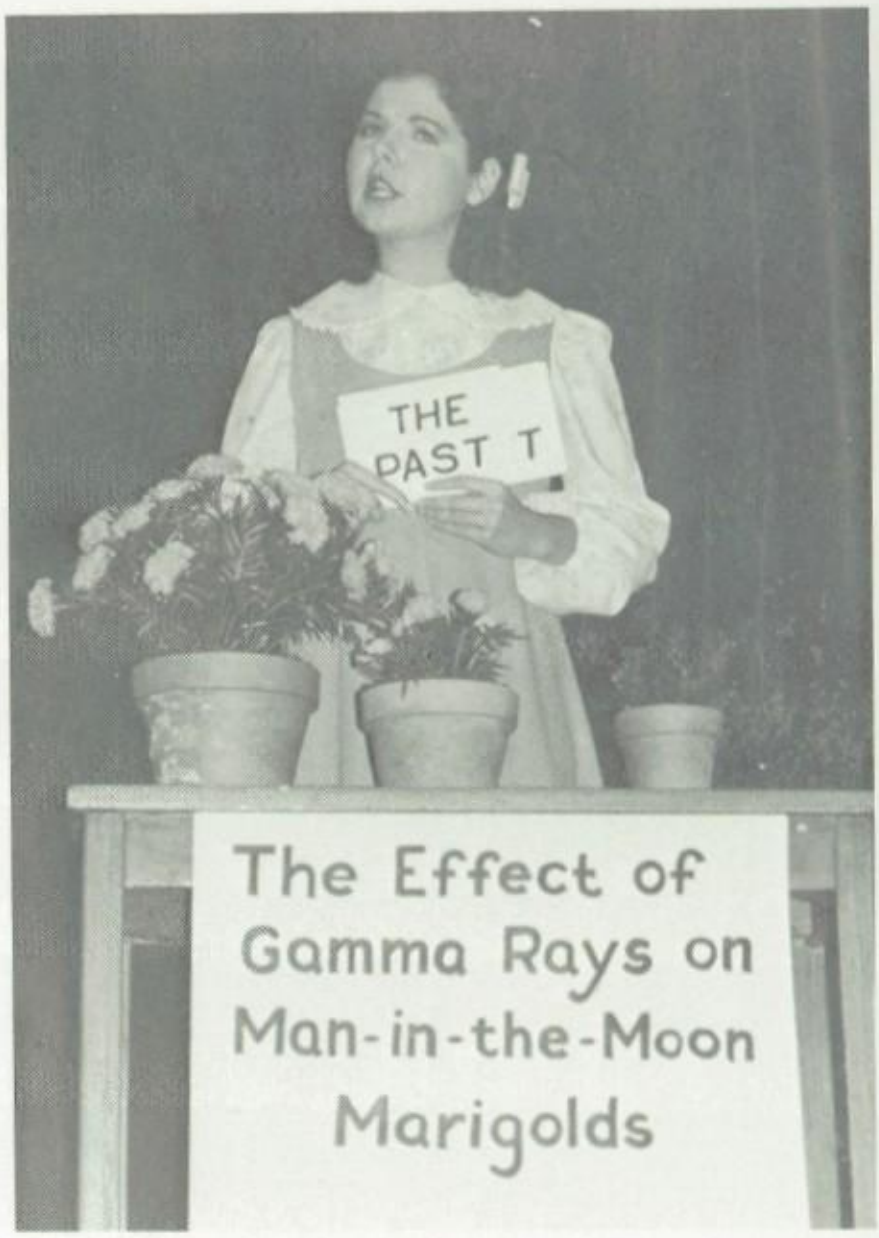
Hollywood,

The Fort Knox High School drama department presented the Pulitzer Prize winning play, THE EFFECT OF GAMMA RAYS ON MAN-IN-THE-MOON MARIGOLDS, written by Paul Zindel and directed by Mrs. Linda Paull.

The play delves deeply into the lives of a bitter widow and her two daughters. Beatrice Hunsdorfer lives in a world of aspirations and desires that were never realized. For fifty dollars a week she takes in a boarder, Nanny, who is an old soul with one foot in the grave.

Ruth, the oldest daughter, who is high-strung and prone to have convulsions, sees life as no more than a tube of lipstick and Chris Burns, her latest boyfriend. She lives life from day to day and is not particularly interested in what does not directly concern her.

Tillie, the younger daughter, has a natural talent and curiosity for science. She enters the Science Fair at school with an experiment on the effects produced by radiation on marigolds. Despite her psychotic mother and spiteful sister, Tillie finds through her love for science some faith and hope in the world.



"The seeds were exposed to various degrees of gamma rays . . ." (Rhonda Wulff)

Dr. Haun tells of his past experiences with football.

Football Banquet

This year's football banquet was held on December 8 at the Officer's Field Ration Mess. Its purpose was to honor the football players, the cheerleaders and the 1976 Homecoming Court. Dinner was served to the guests by the Wrestling Matmaids.

During the ceremony, awards were given to those players earning recognition for most valuable playing, scholastic achievement and sportsmanship. Jackets were presented to those players who completed twenty or more quarters this season.

Guest speakers at the function included Dr. Roland Haun, Superintendent of Fort Knox Schools; LTC Burton S. Boudinot, President of the Boosters Club and Mr. Bill Humphrey, Head Coach of the football team.

The Varsity Cheerleaders present Mrs. Grussmeyer, their sponsor, with a rose.

Gregg Cherry accepts the trophy for sportsmanship, presented to him by Mr. Burrow.

Mr. Burrow presents Gary Bowman with the trophy for Most Valuable Player for the 1976 football season.

Marcelino Rodriquez, on behalf of the Eagle football team, awards Coach Humphrey a plaque to show their appreciation.

Tom Bell is awarded a trophy by Mr. Burrow for scholastic achievement. Tom maintained a high grade point average throughout the season.

Mike McKinley, who tied with Tom Bell for scholastic achievement, happily accepts the award from Mr. Burrow.

Vocational Education

Every afternoon 25 juniors and seniors leave FKHS to attend classes in vocational training at the Elizabethtown State Vocational Technical School. The vocational program is designed to provide high school students with occupational training. The courses last from nine and a half months to twenty-two months and the students receive two and a half credits each year.

Allen Meier

Each Saturday morning at ten o'clock teenage newscasters, Tom Schoonmaker and Allen Meier, broadcast five minutes of Knox news from Station WSAC in Radcliff. They gather the news early in the week and write the copy for the newscast on Wednesday. After the copy has been corrected and approved by Miss Schlinker, the newscast is taped. Tom and Allen have represented Fort Knox High School as WSAC newscasters since September of this school year.

Fort Knox Students Donate Blood

On December 13, 1976 FKHS students who were at least seventeen years old were given the opportunity to donate blood to the Army Blood Center. The turn-out was large, and although many students returned to school slightly weak and pale, they all said they felt good about doing it.

Sherri Halford does her part to further the cause.

Liz Steiger appears to be having second thoughts on the matter.

Everyone looks a little nervous about donating blood.

Frances Ross and Tracy Love

On the night of Friday, January 21, the Mr. and Miss FKHS Court was presented during the half-time of the Varsity boys' basketball game. The contestants had been presented to the students at a pep-rally a week before.

The highlight of the evening was the announcing of Mr. and Miss FKHS. Gabby Love, of the Class of 1979, was chosen by the student body to be Miss FKHS. Along with her, Marcelino Rodriguez, of the Class of 1977, was named Mr. FKHS. Gabby received a silver bowl with her name engraved on it, and Marcelino received a plaque, also engraved with his name.

Freshmen

Lorrie,

[illegible] really helped me through the years. Everytime I got in trouble you were always there to back me up + sometimes even take the blame for what I really did. Although we get in fights a lot and sometimes swear we don't know each other at all it's just cause we put up with each other 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 30 days a month + 12 months a year. Good luck in all the years to come. You're sweet + cute stay that way and you'll go far in the future. You're my favorite sister but that's only because you're my only sister. Thanks for all the help + advice you gave me when I really needed it. I love ya.

Always,

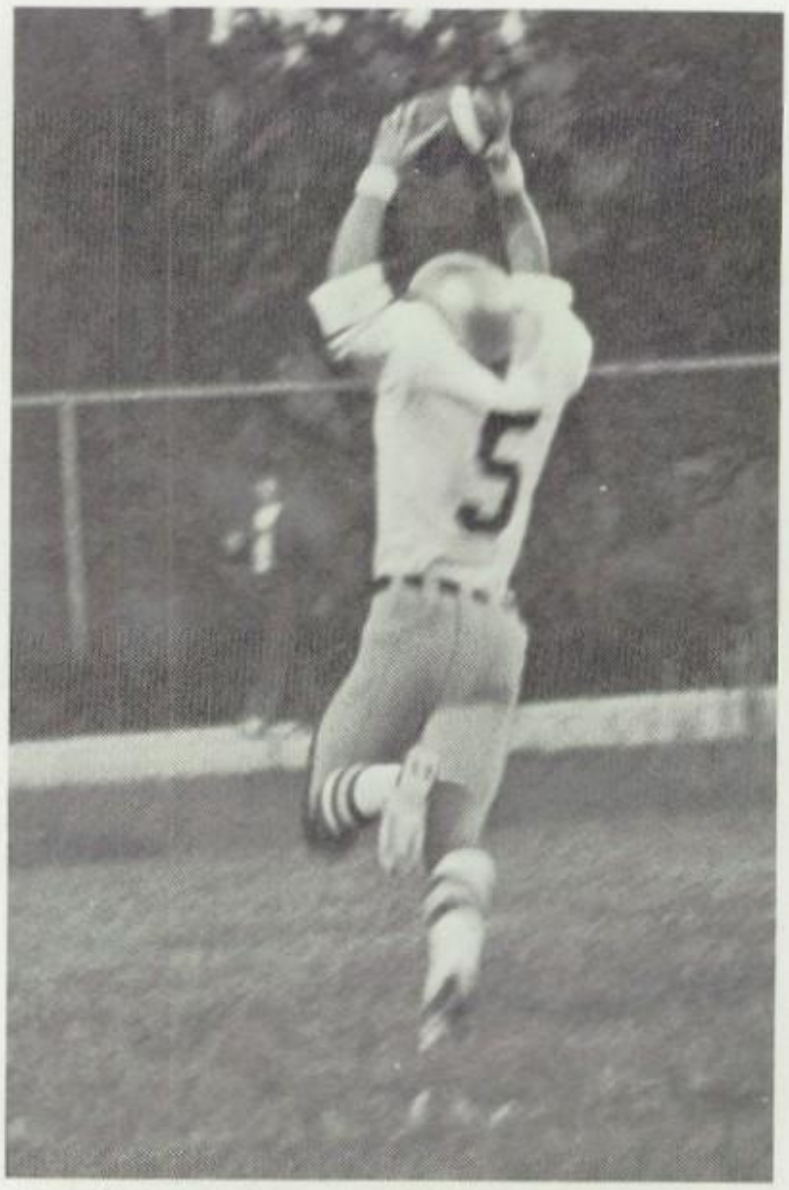
The 1976 Fort Knox Eagle football team had a rather dismal season. After experiencing a winning 6-4 slate a year ago, the Eagles dropped to a paltry 3-7 record.

The Eagles opened the 1976 campaign with a stunning 13-7 victory over the Trojans of North Hardin. All hopes of a district championship ended, however, as Fort Knox suffered a disheartening loss to the Bardstown Tigers. After their initial victory, Knox lost four games in a row. The losing skein was halted as Knox came alive to down the Washington County Commanders 21-7. After dropping a 38-13 decision to Meade County, Knox tallied their final victory of the season by stomping Breckinridge County 40-20.

Fort Knox had the top quarterback in the area in junior signal caller Gary Bowman. Bowman passed for over 1,000 yards in his first full season at quarterback. Most of Bowman's aerials went to the leading pass receiver in the area, junior tight end Danny DiAlto. Sophomore running back Dino Jones was the big ground gainer for Knox as he was named All-Area second team. The Eagle defensive unit was spearheaded by seniors Gregg Cherry, Marty Froebel and Perry Franklin.



Gary Bowman scores the first touchdown of the season.

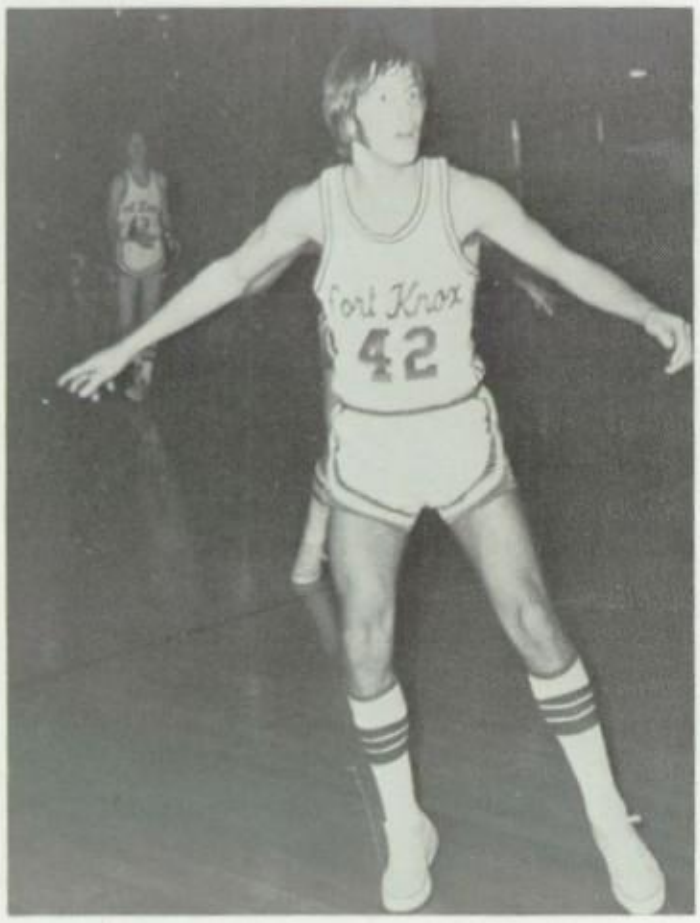
Jeff Ingram–S-T-R-E-T-C-H!!!

Chris Trouve–"Fly Like an Eagle"



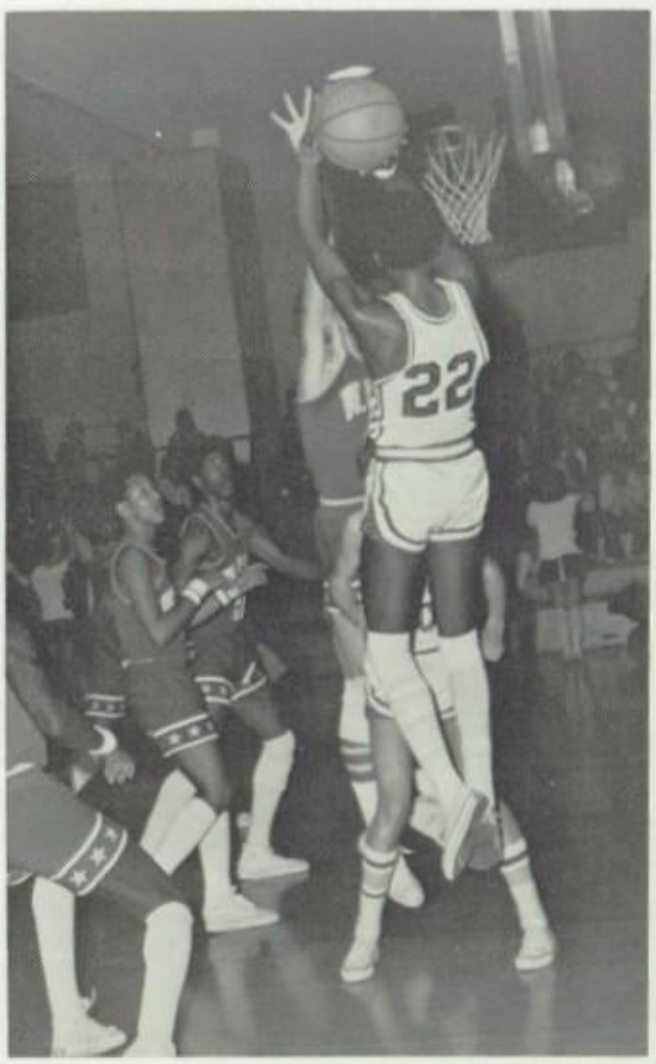
The 1976-77 Fort Knox High School boys basketball team experienced a rather dismal season. The Eagles had hoped that last year's fine crop of JV players would return to form a solid unit. Transfers and retirements ended that hope, however.

Fort Knox's season was somewhat marred by the cancellation of many games. The unprecedented artic winter that affected the area caused a shuffle in Knox's schedule.

Even though Knox failed to have a break-even season, there were a few bright spots during the campaign. Head Coach Joe Smith celebrated his 100th career victory in the Eagles 10 point win over St. Romuald on Feb. 10. Dino Jones averaged nearly twenty points per game throughout the season for Knox. The six foot, one inch Jones was heralded as one of the top sophomores in the area.

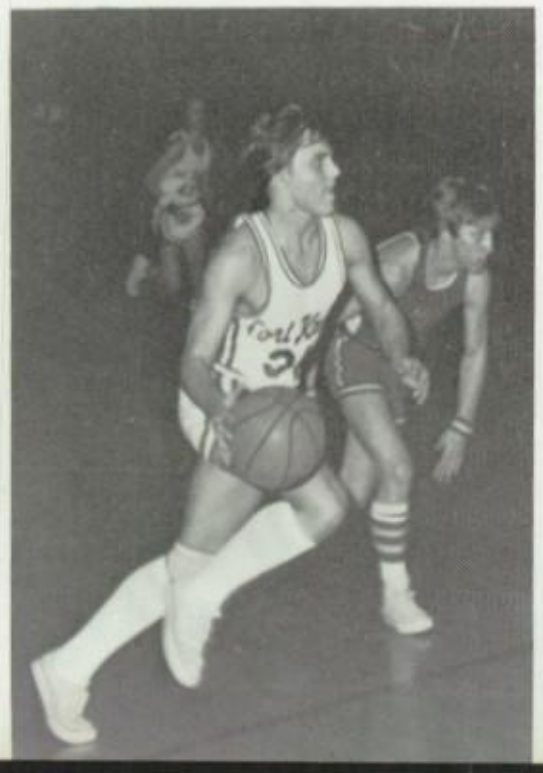
Barring transfers and retirements, Fort Knox should have a strong team returning next year. The Eagles will lose three standout performers because of graduation. They are Lee Knapp, Walter Redd and Murray Davis. Knox will have three returning starters next year–Dino Jones, Steve Simpson and John Miller. Moving up from JV to varsity level will be Randy Auler, Gary Bowman and Jeff Ingram. These returning players will provide a strong nucleus for next year's team.

Walter Redd–"Up, up and away."



John Miller–"A tisket, a tasket, a green and yellow basket."

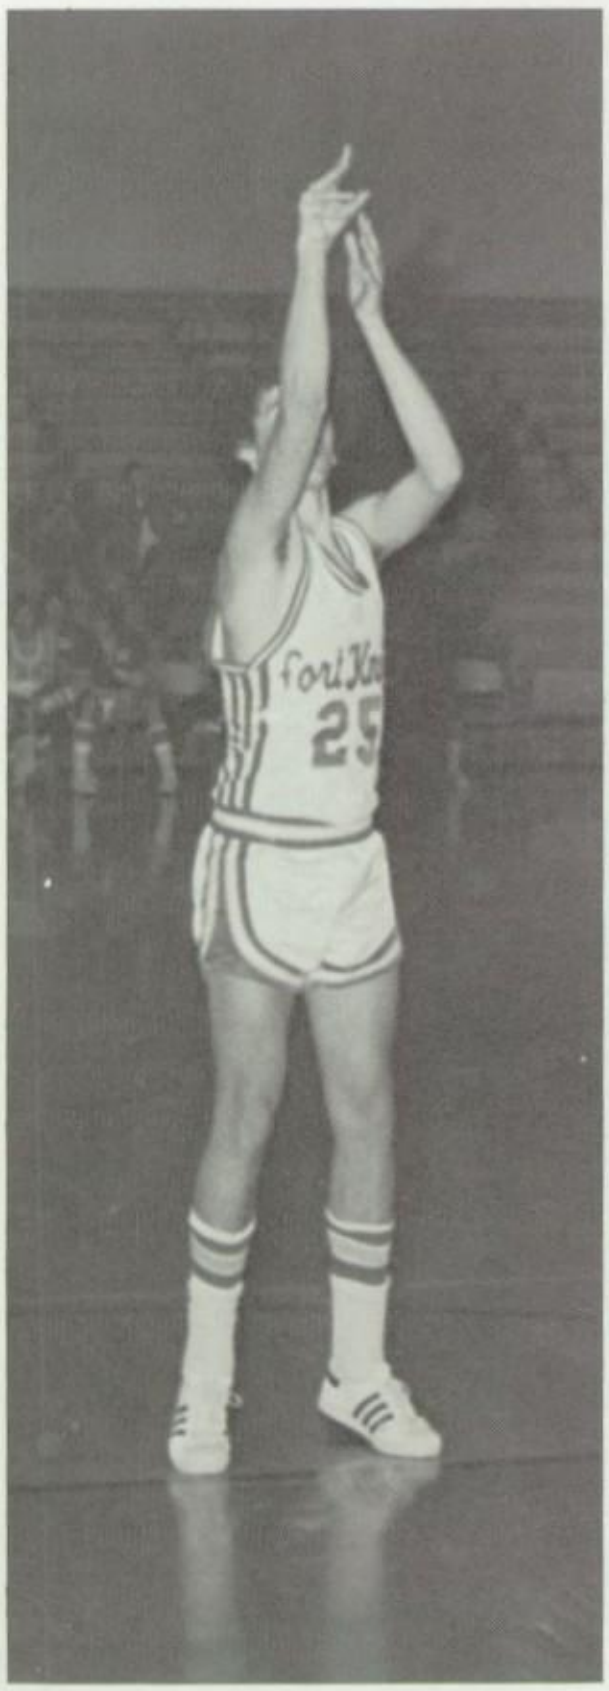
Gary Bowman–"The Six Cent Jock"



"I think I can . . . I think I can . . . I know I can!" (Lee Knapp)

"Oh, no you don't!" (Chris Trouve)

"It's all in the wrist!" (Dino Jones)



Murray Davis does what he's good at.

"Look at that spot on the ceiling!" (Steve Simpson)

Carrie,
It was fun being friends. I Hope we remain that way. Good luck in life and success in all endeavors. May all your dreams come true!
A friend always,
Soizik Howard

"Which way can I go?" Kathy Schoonmaker wonders.

The Fort Knox High School girls basketball team had a very promising season in 1976-1977. After a rather disheartening start, the Eaglettes chalked up quite a few wins and by February 11, boasted an even six and six record. As of that date, Fort Knox had vaulted into the region's top five teams.

The season was promising in that the team had many good performances from underclassmen. In fact, next year's squad will include three returning starters–Carol Smith, Pat Hapney and Carol Sherrod. Due to graduation, Fort Knox will lose the services of two starters–Kathy Schoonmaker and Soizik Howard.

Barring transfers, next year's basketball team should be able to compete with many of the strong squads in the 5th Region.

"If you want it, you'll have to grab it!" Soizik Howard says.

Carol Smith lays the ball up for another two points.

Soizik Howard: The Big Green Machine is on the move again!

Pat Hapney wonders: "Where is everyone?"

Laura Carpenter shows us she's giving it all she has.

The Fort Knox High

The FKHS Swim Team started the 1976-1977 season with a big splash as the girls stroked away with a victory over Assumption. With the help of Coach Marilyn Curtin, the team is expected to be strong and should place well at State which will be held in February at Eastern Kentucky University. The swim team also participates in statewide invitationals. Fifty percent of the team is made up of junior high students which is a strong foundation for future years.

Marcelino Rodriguez: "It's coming my way!"

"Everyone do the duckwalk," Tom Baker says.

Danny DiAlto shows the perfect catching style.

The Season

With coaches Thompson and Dowding, and team managers Tracey Moran and Tracy Brown, the 1976 Eagle baseball team had a tough season. Practicing and playing hard, their season ended with a 6-9 record.

Receiving the MVP Award at the Spring Sports Banquet was Bill Moran, while Lee Knapp took the Sportsmanship Award. Both will be returning to the 1977 baseball team, along with many others.

"We go after them all, even on our knees." Jim Wilds.

"He did me dirty!" Steve Burkholder growls.

Orlando Lopez

Bill Moran, "She's coming after me!"

Coach Julie Tesar

The girls of the 1975-1976 track team had a great season. With many girls returning from the previous year's team, there was much experience within the team.

They placed first in Regionals, at the Shelby County Invitational and at the Rocket Invitational.

Many new school records were set. The mile-run, run by Carol Sheets, was bettered to 5:42, and the 880-yard relay, run by Barbara Brinson, Lisa Daley, Carol Sherrod, and Gail Welch, was improved to 1:47.3.

Le Cercle Francais

Le Cercle Francais, the French Club, helps students in the club to learn more about the language and culture of France through games, French foods, slides, movies and guest speakers.

The French Club also helps the school through projects such as cleaning the trophy cases and decorating the bulletin board by the lounge.

The members of the club not only participate in activities in school but also attend activities outside the school. These activities may include seeing a French film in Bowling Green or Marcel Marceau in Louisville, attending the Annual Foreign Language Festival, or having a spring picnic.

The FKHS Credit Union was the first credit union of its kind. It was founded in 1969 and is the model for many other high school and college credit unions. The organization encourages proper money management by students and teaches the operation of a financial organization to the committee members. The credit union had a bingo game and an auction to promote membership.

If (or a day in Journalism II)

If you can have your page approved when all about you
Are re-doing theirs and blaming it on you,
If you can trust your spelling when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too!
If for pictures you can wait and not be tired of waiting,
Or have pictures lost and remain kind and wise,
Or being yelled at don't give way to yelling,
An yet don't look too mad, nor talk to wise.

If you can dream and write the captions faster;
If you can think and not make grades your aim,
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And know that Mrs. Burrow's rejection will not maim;
If you can bear to see the copy you've written
Twisted by Park into 'claptrap' for fools,
Or watch the pictures you've cropped be torn and broken,
And stoop and re-do 'em all with tears in pools:

If you can argue with Mrs. Burrow and keep your virtue,
Or persuade Mr. Just that a picture is not off much,
If neither Mrs. Park's nor Peggy's criticism can hurt you,
If all staff members like you but none too much;
If you can fill each and every fifth period
With seventy minutes of work and fun,
You'll enjoy your senior year and everything that's in it,
And which is more-you'll be in Journalism II, my son!

Jon,

Your such a sweet little gal and I'm gonna miss ya alot. I sure hope to see ya sometime this summer then we can talk about all the crazy things that went on in our Geometry class. We've had some great times. I sure wish ya all the luck in the world and I hope ya find someone really sweet to hitch on to. Well, I won't bore ya anymore. Good luck, God Bless, Stay sweet, and don't ever change.
